who took spoil of the strong chambers of agonising death and redeemed the human race by defeating the mighty evil one who had enslaved them, who is the one and only warrior, the firstborn among the dead who resurrected into incorruptibility, the resurrected and living Lord the Messiah,
who by Your resurrection
saved Adam and his descendents from destruction, on this day when we celebrate the festival of Your resurrection, and all the days of our lives,
You are worthy of praise, worship and honour,

Prayer

P. Our Lord the Messiah, because You are by very nature, life itself and the giver of life, and in love, endured death on the cross to redeem us from sin, willingly lay in the tomb to bring us out from the depths of hell, descended among the dead,
so that we who would have perished by death,
could be returned to life,
on this day of Your resurrection,
we worship and praise You for all Your mercies towards us.

Indeed Lord, You died for us, stayed three days in the womb of the earth, demolished cruel death, and by destroying hell, redeemed us slaves and set us free.

Without seeing corruption,
You gloriously rose up to life and together with You, raised us up.

By Your resurrection, You removed the animosity created by Satan, between the Father and our race, and brought peace.

You united those in heaven and on earth.
You destroyed the venom of the mighty serpent,
by the water and blood that flowed from Your side.

By that life giving blood,
You promised all the descendents of Adam, incorruptible lives and an imperishable Kingdom.

By Your resurrection, You gave life to Adam,
And the one who was made in Your image,^{xvi} was renewed.

By Your victory, You brought happiness to those above and joy to those below.

On the day of Your resurrection,
the heavenly beings came down in Your honour.
The angels gathered around Your tomb.^{xvii}
Those from above came together with the ones below.
The heavenly beings established peace with the earthly beings.
The spiritual beings sang songs together with the physical beings.

Now, with David, the godly psalmist,
we too can say in a loud voice, that indeed, “This is the day that the Lord has made;
come, let us rejoice and be glad in it.”^{xviii}

This is the great festival of joy.

Today the angels proclaim joy to those on earth.
Today brings grief to those who crucified Him and consolation to the disciples.

Today brings sorrow to the Jews and happiness and joy to the holy Church.

Today we approach with the hope of life.

Today the one who was counted with the dead, wakes the dead with His own voice and brings joy to His entire creation.

Lord, because of this,
on this day that You rose from the dead,
what we pray for is; that You receive the prayers and supplications offered by us who are weak and sinful and grant us forgiveness of trespasses and pardon for our sins.

O Lord, make us worthy to praise You together with the angels who praised and glorified You at Your tomb, the saintly women and the disciples, and to approach You with joy
on the glorious day of Your second coming, adorned with white garments of righteous works together with the entire company of the saints.

We will offer praise and thanksgiving

Chant

Of all days, Sunday is indeed the greatest.
All creation here and above, celebrate this day.
On this day, the throne of God is glorified,
the gospel of salvation is proclaimed, and comfort and hope is granted to the living and the dead.
On this day that the Lord has risen from the tomb, the Church rejoicingly says, "Haaleluyyah". Bless us O Lord.

Praise be to the Father, Son and Holy Spirit. Haaleluyyah.

Peace, peace for those who are near and far.
The Messiah rose from the tomb and gathered the scattered.
Thomas and Simon were affirmed in their faith,
and sadness and despair departed from them.
Caiaphas however, bowed his head and the crowds wept.
The Church, together with Mary and her friends sang praises;
"Haaleluyyah, O Lord of the Resurrection!"
Lord, bless us and help us.

Prayer of Incense

P. Our Lord, who by Your death, gave life to the dead, who by Your burial, raised those who were buried in the tomb, who untied the power of death and turned it into a peaceful slumber for the redeemed,
who by Your resurrection,
gained victory over death and Satan, accept this prayer of incense that we offer at this time in Your holy presence and with it, put to death all sinful inclination within us.

Nicene Creed

- P. We believe in the one true God, the Father Almighty; C. Maker of heaven and earth and of all things visible and invisible.

We believe in one Lord Jesus Christ, the only-begotten Son of God, begotten of the Father before all worlds; Light of light, very God of very God; begotten not made, being of one substance with the Father,
by whom all things were made;
who, for us and for our salvation, came down from heaven and was incarnate by the Holy Spirit of the virgin Mary and was made Man;
He was crucified also for us in the days of Pontius Pilate;
He suffered and died and was buried;
on the third day He rose again by His own holy will, ascended into heaven and sits at the right hand of the Father;
He shall come again with glory,
to judge both the living and the dead;
and of His Kingdom, there will be no end.

We believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord and giver of life;
who proceeds from the Father;
who with the Father and Son together is worshipped and glorified;
who spoke by the prophets and the apostles;
and we believe in one holy catholic and apostolic Church.

We acknowledge one baptism
for the forgiveness of sins and look forward to the resurrection of the dead and the new life of the world to come. Amen.

- D. Bless us O Lord. Let us stand reverently.
C. Lord, have mercy.
